The diagrams above represent a few chord choices that can be used for this exercise. To further challenge yourself, feel free to find alternate fret positions, inversions, or other substitutes that can be played over this melody. For other skill development, apply more approach chords to the comping arrangement.